Chinese President Xi Jinping delivered a keynote address at the CPC in Dialogue with World Political Parties High-Level Meeting via video link on March 15, 2023.

The following is the full text of the address:

Leaders of political parties from around the world,
Ladies and Gentlemen,
Friends,

It gives me great pleasure to join all of you for the discussion on "Path Towards Modernization: The Responsibility of Political Parties".

The history of human development is full of twists and turns. Similarly, the journey of each country to explore the path to modernization is also arduous. In today's world, multiple challenges and crises are intertwined. The global economic recovery remains sluggish, the development gap is widening, ecological environment is deteriorating, and the Cold War mentality is lingering. Humanity's modernization process has once again reached a crossroads of history.

Polarization or common prosperity? Pure materialistic pursuit or coordinated material and cultural-ethical advancement? Draining the pond to catch the fish or creating harmony between man and nature? Zero-sum game or win-win cooperation? Copying other countries' development model or achieving independent development in light of national conditions? What kind of modernization do we need and how can we achieve it? Confronted with these questions, political parties as an important force steering and driving the modernization process are duty bound to provide answers. Here, I wish to share some of my observations.

We must put the people first and ensure modernization is people-centered. The people are the creators of history and are the strongest bedrock and force in advancing modernization. The ultimate goal of modernization is people's free and well-rounded development. For a modernization path to work and work well, it must put the people first. Modernization is not only about indicators and statistics on the paper but more about the delivery of a happy and stable life for the people. With a focus on the people's aspirations for a better life and further progress of civilization, political parties should strive to achieve material abundance, political integrity, cultural-ethical enrichment, social stability, and pleasant living environments so that modernization will better address the concerns and meet diversified needs of the people. In this way, modernization will promote the sustainable development of humanity by not only increasing the wellbeing of this generation but also protecting the rights and interest of future generations.

We must uphold the principle of independence and explore diversified paths towards modernization. Modernization is not "an exclusive patent" of a small handful of countries, nor is it a single answer question. It cannot be realized by a cookie cutter approach or simple "copy and paste". For any country to achieve modernization, it needs not only to follow the general laws governing the process, but more importantly consider its own national conditions and unique features. It is the people of a country that are in the best position to tell what kind of modernization best suits them. Developing countries have the right and ability to independently explore the modernization path with their distinctive features based on their national realities. We must develop our country and our nation with our own strength, and we must maintain a firm grasp on the future of our country's development and progress. We should respect and support the development paths independently chosen by different peoples to jointly usher in a new prospect for humanity's modernization that is like a garden where a hundred flowers bloom.

We must uphold fundamental principles and break new ground and ensure the continuity of the modernization process. In the face of various new issues, conditions and challenges in the modernization process, political parties should boldly take on responsibilities and excel in their work. We should break the shackles of stale thinking, remove institutional barriers, explore new methods and new approaches, and break new ground in theories and practices to instill unceasing dynamism into the modernization process. We should work together to reform and develop the global governance system and make the international order more just and equitable as we advance humanity's modernization in an environment of equal rights, equal opportunities and fair rules for all.

We must help others to succeed while seeking our own success and ensure all can enjoy the outcomes of modernization. Humanity lives in a community with a shared future where we rise and fall together. For any country to achieve modernization, it should pursue common development through solidarity and cooperation and follow the principles of joint contribution, shared benefits and win-win outcome. The frontrunners should sincerely support other countries in their development. One will not be seen in a more favourable light after blowing out others' lamp; nor will they go farther by blocking others' paths. We should share opportunities, create a future together and make the pie of humanity's modernization bigger to ensure more people enjoy the outcomes of modernization in a fairer way. We stand firmly opposed to the practice of preserving one's own development privilege by suppressing and containing other countries' endeavor to achieve modernization.

We must forge ahead with enterprise and ensure firm leadership over modernization. Modernization does not fall into our lap automatically. It is the result of hard work with the strong historical initiative. Political parties are the leading and driving force for modernization. Their values, ability to lead and govern, ethos, willpower and character have a direct bearing on the orientation and future of the modernization process. As an ancient Chinese philosopher said, "He who conquers himself is strong." Political parties should integrate party building with national modernization, forge ahead with enterprise and resolve, and excel themselves. In this way, they will have the confidence, determination and capability to respond to the challenges and questions presented by the times, meet people's expectations, and steer the course and marshal strength for the modernization cause.

Ladies and gentlemen,
Friends,

Achieving modernization is a dream that the Chinese people have strived to fulfill since modern times. The journey of over 100 years that the Party has traversed to unite and lead the Chinese people in pursuing national rejuvena-

The CPC will continue to promote inter-civilization exchanges and mutual learning and advance the progress of human civilizations. Around the world, countries and regions have chosen different paths to modernization, which are rooted in their unique and long civilizations. All civilizations created by human society are splendid. They are where each country's modernization drive draws its strength and where its unique feature comes from. They, transcending time and space, have jointly made important contribution to humanity's modernization process. Chinese modernization, as a new form of human advancement, will draw upon the merits of other civilizations and make the garden of world civilizations more vibrant.

tion is also an exploration of a path towards modernization. Thanks to the unremitting efforts of generation after generation, we have found our own path to modernization.

The 20th National Congress of the CPC has proposed advancing the rejuvenation of the Chinese nation on all fronts through a Chinese path to modernization. Chinese modernization is one of a huge population, of common prosperity for all, of material and cultural-ethical advancement, of harmony between humanity and nature, and of peaceful development. It is rooted in our national conditions and also draws on the experience of other countries. It carries the imprint of history and traditional culture and also contains modern elements. It delivers benefit to the Chinese people and also advances common development of the world. It is a sure path for us to build a stronger nation and realize the rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. It is also a path we must take to seek progress for humanity and harmony for the entire world. We will stay committed to the right direction, right theories and the right path. We will not veer off course by changing our nature or abandoning our system. As our own future is closely connected with that of other countries and peoples, we will strive to provide new opportunities for world development, add new impetus to humanity's exploration of paths towards modernization and make new contributions to the theory and practice of humanity's modernization as we make new progress in Chinese modernization.

The CPC will continue to pursue high-quality development and promote global growth and prosperity. We will accelerate the building of a new development paradigm that promotes high-standard opening up and steady expansion of market access. China's door will only open wider. As we further modernize our industrial system, we will provide the world with more and better products made and created in China, and with a Chinese market of a larger scale and stronger demand. We will continue to support and help developing countries in their pursuit of faster development, industrialization and modernization and offer Chinese solutions and strength for narrowing the North-South gap and achieving common development. The CPC stands ready to work with political parties of all other countries to advance high-quality Belt and Road cooperation, accelerate the solid implementation of the Global Development Initiative, foster new drivers for global development and build a global community of development.

Here, I wish to propose the Global Civilization Initiative. We advocate the respect for the diversity of civilizations. We advocate the common values of humanity. We advocate the importance of inheritance and innovation of civilizations. We advocate robust international people-to-people exchanges and cooperation.

The CPC will continue to safeguard international fairness and justice and promote world peace and stability. In advancing modernization, China will neither tread the old path of colonization and plunder, nor the crooked path taken by some countries to seek hegemony once they grow strong. What China pursues is the right course of peaceful development. We seek to settle differences through dialogue and resolve disputes through cooperation. We firmly oppose hegemony and power politics in all their forms. We advocate solidarity and win-win mentality in handling complex and intertwined security challenges to set up a fair and just security architecture that is built and shared by all. The world does not need a new Cold War. The practice of stoking division and confrontation in the name of democracy is in itself a violation of the spirit of democracy. It will not receive any support. What it brings is only endless harm. A modernized China will strengthen the force for world peace and international justice. No matter what level of development China achieves, it will never seek hegemony or expansion.

The CPC will continue to promote inter-civilization exchanges and mutual learning and advance the progress of human civilizations. Around the world, countries and regions have chosen different paths to modernization, which are rooted in their unique and long civilizations. All civilizations created by human society are splendid. They are where each country's modernization drive draws its strength and where its unique feature comes from. make the garden of world civilizations more vibrant.

Ladies and gentlemen,
Friends,

A single flower does not make spring, while one hundred flowers in full blossom bring spring to the garden. As the future of all countries are closely connected, tolerance, coexistence, exchanges and mutual learning among different civilizations play an irreplaceable role in advancing humanity's modernization process and making the garden of world civilizations flourish. Here, I wish to propose the Global Civilization Initiative.

We advocate the respect for the diversity of civilizations. Countries need to uphold the principles of equality, mutual learning, dialogue and inclusiveness among civilizations, and let cultural exchanges transcend estrangement, mutual learning transcend clashes, and coexistence transcend feelings of superiority.

We advocate the common values of humanity. Peace, development, equity, justice, democracy and freedom are the common aspirations of all peoples. Countries need to keep an open mind in appreciating the perceptions of values by different civilizations, and refrain from imposing their own values or models on others and from stoking ideological confrontation.

We advocate the importance of inheritance and innovation of civilizations. Countries need to fully harness the relevance of their histories and cultures to the present times, and push for creative transformation and innovative development of their fine traditional cultures.

We advocate robust international people-to-people exchanges and cooperation. Countries need to explore the building of a global network for inter-civilization dialogue and cooperation, enrich the contents of exchanges and expand avenues of cooperation to promote mutual understanding and friendship among people of all countries and jointly advance the progress of human civilizations.

We are ready to work together with the international community to open up a new prospect of enhanced exchanges and understanding among different peoples and better interactions and integration of diversified cultures. Together we can make the garden of world civilizations colorful and vibrant.

The CPC is committed to strengthening exchanges and cooperation with other political parties to pursue the just cause together. We are ready to deepen interactions with political parties and organizations in other countries to expand the convergence of ideas and interests. Let us leverage the strength of a new type of party-to-party relations for the building of a new type of international relations and expand global partnerships by fostering stronger partners with world political parties. The CPC stands ready to share governance experience with political parties and organizations of other countries so that together we can make big strides on the path to modernization toward the goal of building a community with a shared future for mankind.

Ladies and Gentlemen,
Friends,

There are bound to be setbacks on humanity's journey to modernization, but the future is bright. The CPC is willing to work with all of you to ensure that different modernization drives form a mighty force driving prosperity and progress of the world and forge ahead nonstop in the long river of history!

Thank you. **☑

Cai Qi, Member of the Standing Committee of the Political Bureau of the CPC Central Committee and Member of the CPC Central Committee Secretariat, attended the event and made closing remarks.

He pointed out that the keynote speech General Secretary Xi Jinping delivered systematically expounded on the CPC's understanding in exploring the path of modernization, proposed the Global Civilization Initiative, and expressed that the CPC is willing to work with political parties in other countries to promote modernization with their own characteristics, promote mutual exchanges and mutual learning among global civilizations, and promote the building of a community with a shared future for humanity.

He stressed that the sincere desire demonstrates the CPC's political courage and sense of responsibility to rise to the common challenges facing humanity, and contributes China's solutions to advancing global modernization and progress of human civilizations.

He concluded that, together with political parties and organizations across the world, the CPC is willing to shoulder the responsibility a political party should hold in exploring the path of modernization and promoting civilization progress, and to walk hand in hand along the journey of promoting the building of a community with a shared future for humanity. Highlights of World Political Party Leaders' Speeches

The following are excerpts from the speeches of world political party leaders delivered at the meeting:

Opening Ceremony

Cyril Ramaphosa, President of the African National Congress and President of the Republic of South Africa

The African National Congress (ANC) is a representative of a national liberation movement with a progressive and revolutionary tradition. Our core mission is to free humanity from all kinds of socio-economic problems and to promote the best elements of human civilizations.

Through dialogue and consultation with its enemies, the ANC dismantled Apartheid in South Africa and reached a democratic consensus. We have learned an important lesson from this historical experience, that is, dialogue is always preferable to violence. This has also become our principled position on many international issues.

We readily support President Xi's Global Civilizations Initiative and support the common call to respect the diversity of the world's civilizations, promote the common values of humanity, attach importance to the inheritance and innovation of civilizations, strengthen people-to-people exchanges and cooperation, and jointly promote the progress of human civilizations.

Today, the world faces devastating challenges such as climate change, the global pandemic, terrorism and rising geopolitical tensions and conflicts. In this context, the importance of the Global Civilizations Initiative becomes even more prominent.

The ANC is committed to promoting the best values and practices of human civilizations and will always stand with the oppressed and the poor of the world. South Africa highly appreciates China's foreign policy based on the principles of mutual respect and non-interference in each other's internal affairs, and earnestly looks forward China to further consolidating these principles and leading the implementation of various initiatives, which are crucial to the collective success of developing countries.

The ANC continues to respect the United Nations and the basic norms governing international relations based on the UN Charter. The ANC calls for continued reform of the UN Security Council, international financial institutions and other organizations with a view to maintaining peace and stability, promoting inclusive growth and exploring a development path that leaves no one behind.

The ANC opposes a unipolar international order based on unilateralism and is committed to building a multilateral international order based on mutual respect and mutually beneficial partnership. The concept of harmony between humanity and nature has existed since ancient times. Following this concept can help us reverse the negative impact of climate change and promote the building of a community with a shared future for humanity.

We live in difficult times. In today's world, downward pressure on the global economy is mounting, multilateralism is facing severe challenges, and international peace is under huge threat. As a developing country, South Africa cannot afford the growing burden of global inequality and poverty.

But in the face of difficulties, we are not helpless. Progressive internationalism requires the unity and joint efforts of all like-minded political parties in developed and developing countries. It calls on us to have the courage to fundamentally change the global balance of power, restructure the global governance system and promote progress in the global movement.

I am confident that meetings like today's will allow us to continue working together to build a peaceful, prosperous and equitable world order.

Nicolás Maduro Moros, President of Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, President of the United Socialist Party of Venezuela

The United Socialist Party of Venezuela is a young organization that emerged in the midst of the heat of the Bolivarian Revolution. It was founded by our beloved leader Hugo Chavez and born under the banner of building socialism from our libertarian roots while inheriting the profound cultural heritage of Latin America and the Caribbean. The United Socialist Party was born out of the social and political movement, in our struggle against American imperialism which sought to occupy and control the Americas, and in our efforts to build a political, economic and social model suited to our national conditions just as President Xi has mentioned. This model is socialism of the 21st century, and Bolivarianism of the 21st Century.

Let there be no doubt that the time has come to build a new world. This is a multipolar world, a world of multiple power centers and a world in which people of all countries remain independent and enjoy integration. It encourages more consensus, solidarity, political leadership, dialogue and coordination. It also supports the people in making greater efforts to build the right path for the development of human civilizations. This right path is what President Xi has said, a path that will allow civilizations to flourish and peoples of all countries to prosper, that is, a community with a shared future for humanity. Venezuela fully supports such a vision.

We believe the historic moment has come and the time of the people has now arrived. It's time to build a new liberalism that is an alternative to barbaric capitalism, economic hegemony and political blackmail, and against imposing development models on others. Venezuela has been well tested. I can declare to the world that Venezuela stands firm, that our country is still strong and marching toward an independent and peaceful future.

Distinguished President Xi, the United Socialist Party of Venezuela and the Venezuelan people fully support your initiative on the coexistence of human civilizations and a path of peace, unity, harmony, coexistence and development. We fully support the Global Civilizations Initiative and believe that with the concerted efforts of all of humanity, our future will be an era of development, prosperity and progress.

Aleksandar Vučić, President of the Serbian Progressive Party, President of the Republic of Serbia

Under the strong leadership of President Xi Jinping, China has become a global economic powerhouse. In recent years, it has made remarkable achievements in science and technology, becoming a leader in artificial intelligence, quantum computing, space exploration and other fields. The world is looking to China for innovative solutions to future challenges.

As a permanent member of the UN Security Council, China has always been committed to maintaining world peace and has given diplomatic support to Serbia in its efforts to safeguard territorial integrity and global order. UN Security Council Resolution 1244 is a guarantee for Serbia to maintain peace and safeguard its territorial integrity. We appreciate China's sincere respect for the resolution. Serbia firmly supports the one-China principle and China's territorial integrity. In the process of strengthening international cooperation, the friendship between the two countries will grow stronger and deeper.

To promote peace and security and address global challenges, President Xi has proposed the Global Security Initiative and the Global Development Initiative. President Xi is the greatest exponent of dialogue and cooperation, solidarity and inclusiveness. China is committed to pursuing peaceful development, promoting the reform of the global governance system, and building an open and inclusive community with a shared future for humanity.

We must uphold equality, mutual learning, dialogue and inclusiveness among civilizations, and allow cultural exchanges to transcend estrangement, mutual learning to transcend clashes, and coexistence to transcend feelings of superiority.

To promote mutual understanding, we need to strengthen international people-to-people exchanges and cooperation, explore the building of a global network of dialogue and cooperation among civilizations, enrich exchanges, expand cooperation channels, promote mutual understanding and amity among people of all countries, and jointly promote the progress of human civilizations.

Let me once again express my sincere gratitude to China and the Communist Party of China for their friendship and support over the years. We believe that the profound friendship between our two countries will continue to grow and create more opportunities for cooperation and progress. Let us work together to build a better world of shared prosperity and peaceful coexistence.

L.Oyun-Erdene, Chairman of the Mongolian People's Party, Prime Minister of Mongolia

I believe that under the strong leadership of President Xi Jinping, China will certainly achieve the second centenary goal of building a modern socialist country that is prosperous, strong, democratic, culturally advanced, harmonious and beautiful in all respects.

At a time when international geopolitical relations are in crisis and the world is facing various new challenges, President Xi has put forward the Global Development Initiative, Global Security Initiative and Global Civilizations Initiative, calling for equality, the peaceful coexistence of all countries and resolving issues through dialogue and consultation. Mongolia supports these initiatives.

Mutual trust, dialogue and cooperation are the most important guarantee for world peace, people's well-being as well as development and prosperity of all countries. Political parties are a bridge to build mutual trust between the government and the people. Therefore, cooperation and mutual understanding between political parties play an important role in enhancing friendly relations between countries.

The Communist Party of China (CPC) has an important influence on international political and economic governance. The CPC in Dialogue with World Political Parties High-Level Meeting, organized by the CPC at this opportune time, has contributed to consolidating world peace and created a platform for candid exchanges for all parties to jointly explore the path to modernization. We are grateful for those efforts.

Mongolia has actively supported the Belt and Road Initiative since its inception and will continue to take an active part in it in the future. In order to promote sustainable development in the region, the Mongolian government has put forward a new revival policy, and stands ready to strengthen mutually beneficial cooperation with other parties on major projects in the social and economic fields.

At present, we are facing global challenges such as climate change, ecological imbalance, unfair economic distribution, poverty and worsening geopolitical conflicts. Political parties need to enhance their communication of ideas, solidarity and coordination. This is the mission given to us by the times we live in.

After World War II, ideological confrontation and the Cold War continued for half a century, negatively affecting human development and progress. It's a lesson that should never be forgotten.

All countries must respect each other's independence, sovereignty, territorial integrity, as well as the development path chosen by each other, and differences in ideologies and governance models, to play a positive role in maintaining world peace and creating a happy life for humanity. I believe that the political parties of all countries present at this meeting, especially the CPC which organized it, will make important historical contributions to realizing this vision.

I agree with President Xi's keynote address that "one will not be seen in a more favorable light after blowing another's lamp; nor will they go farther by blocking another's path." All countries need to live in peace and work together to build the garden of world civilizations.

Plenary Session

James Marape, Leader of PANGU Party, Prime Minister of Papua New Guinea

I want to applaud the CPC for convening this World Political Parties High level Meeting, providing a platform for the world's political parties to strengthen exchanges and mutual learning on governance and other areas.

China, notably, has made remarkable progress under the leadership of CPC and the conclusion of the 20th National Congress of CPC is indeed a very significant occasion for all Chinese people on this profound and remarkable journey.

Over the last decade coinciding with the leadership of President Xi Jinping, China has portrayed on the international stage, high-quality development for its people and has really set the benchmark for other countries to follow including my own country.

This is inspirational. This is something worth noting. Papua New Guinea would like to commend China's leadership for this historic lift of world people into modern life and good life.

I must admit that China has found a development path suited to its own national conditions. I also thank China for its long-standing support and assistance towards nations like my very own Papua New Guinea and our Development Agenda. There is no doubt that Chinese pathway to modernization, offers humanity another choice for achieving better standard of living, and we need to explore this sort of contextualized modernization from our own perspectives.

PNG is also committed to deepening exchanges and cooperation between our two countries. Whilst we are sometimes on the receiving end from the aid from China, we also want to move past and strengthen more relations with China, especially learn from China's experience, and enhance people-to-people, business-to-business and government-to-government exchanges.

PNG itself is indeed a profound and splendid nation of diversity of cultures. We have over 1000 different cultures, over 800 different languages and I want to take this opportunity to reiterate President Xi Jinping's initiative on promoting mutual learning exchanges among global civilizations. Though diverse we may be, finding unity and common grounds is something we'd like to promote. And I want to commend President Xi Jinping's initiative.

The diversity of civilizations should not be a burden for a country's development, but rather an asset for inheritance, innovation and development, especially at this time when the international community is facing so many challenges such as Climate Change, COVID-19 just to name a few.

My Government and the Pangu Party is ready to work closely with the Communist Party of China as well as other countries and world political parties to strengthen dialogue and communication and unite to address common challenges, and build a better world that will leave no one behind, especially those who are in the rural enclaves.

Salva Kiir Mayardit, Chairman of Sudan People's Liberation Movement of South Sudan and President of the Republic of South Sudan

This meeting came at a challenging time in the world. We are faced today with complex security threats coming from geopolitical competition based on the unwillingness of some states to accept fair and balanced global governance. To us in the developing world, this unbalanced global governance manifests itself in form of unjustified sanctions and embargo, which are often imposed under the banner of the United Nations, but are designed to support geopolitical interest of some powerful states.

With the situation of our world today, we as leaders of likeminded parties need to focus our attention on advocating for common values that binds humanity and respecting each other's paths and aspects of civilization. We need to say no to all forms of confrontation along ideological lines, and instead adopt a people-to-people exchanges and cooperation. This is the true meaning of the sovereign equality of states enshrined in the UN Charter.

Bilaterally, South Sudan and China enjoy strong relations based on mutual understanding. That is why the SPLM party and the government of South Sudan are committed to enhancing cooperation with China in different fields on a win-win basis. This formula suits us because we are blessed with natural resources that can be used to lift our people out of poverty and China has the expertise and technology to partner with us.

It is on this basis that we consider China as our strategic partner and the foundation of our continued support for one China policy, FOCAC, One Belt One Road, Global Development and Global Security initiatives and joint support in International arena including strengthening SPLM-CPC cooperation in different fields.

We look forward to working together to build a community of nations on shared future for all humanity.

Daniel Ortega, General Secretary of the Sandinista National Liberation Front, President of Nicaragua

We hope to create a world with peace, mutual understanding, solidarity, cooperation and coexistence. In this world, people share the fruits of scientific and technological progress and accelerate the development of social justice and equity with joint efforts. It is a world built for the wellbeing of humanity.

We have great admiration for the sense of responsibility and commitment shown by the People's Republic of China, the Communist Party of China (CPC) and Comrade Xi Jinping. They treat our country and people with respect and continue to promote cooperation featuring indispensable communication and constructive coordination in a bid to create jobs, improve people's lives, and create prosperity and security for all.

The revolution led by the Sandinista National Liberation Front embodies the courage and dignity of our revolutionary brothers who defeated imperialism and colonialism with heroic spirit and determination. Today, in the face of interventionist policies, we must deal with them in the same way or with different approaches. Only in this way can we defend our right to peace and existence. Only in this way, can we build a brotherhood with mutual respect, solidarity and sincerity with people around the world, especially countries and government that share our ideals and values in terms of independence, sovereignty, security and peace.

Nicaragua will continue to fight against imperialism and firmly support every initiative proposed by the People's Republic of China, the CPC and the heroic Chinese people for the development of and mutual learning among civilizations. We will defend our rights and freedoms and dedicate ourselves to all just courses, shoulder to shoulder, which determines that we are hardworking, brave and noble. We are staunch defenders of unity, civilization and prosperity in a multipolar world with respect and mutual learning among civilizations, and in a process of increasing the integration of ideas and ways of life of all of humanity.

It is a great honor for the Sandinista National Liberation Front to participate in the CPC in Dialogue with World Political Parties High-level Meeting. We appreciate and endorse the initiative and call of General Secretary and Chinese President Xi Jinping, and the efforts made by the Chinese side over the years to promote exchanges in all forms. We will work with China to jointly oppose hegemonism, unipolarity and social injustice, and continue to support each other and work together to build a path of exchange, sincerity and solidarity.

Boris Gryzlov, Chairman of the Supreme Council of the United Russia Party

There is no doubt that the cooperation between the United Russia Party and the Communist Party of China (CPC) has made the most significant contribution to building a fair and reasonable international order. The strategic coordination between the two parties has grown into one of the most important parts of Russia-China relations that have reached unprecedented heights. The relations are an important pillar of global stability against the backdrop of geopolitical tension.

The United Russia Party can confidently say that our cooperative relations with the CPC in the new era have established a model for inter-party exchanges featuring mutual trust and equality.

This is the reason why the United Russia Party considers it is appropriate and significant time to unite responsible political forces around the world and initiate a forum themed on resisting neocolonialism with joint efforts and hold the first meeting this autumn. It aims to provide support for sovereign states and political parties on an independent path based on their values to resist any attempt from those who impose their political policies on others.

We believe that Russia and China can jointly improve the quality of global modernization through cooperation with other countries. We can and should make the transition more people-centered and fairer. Among the foundations of our worldview is the protection of individual rights and freedoms, the right to access cultural and scientific heritage, the inadmissibility of unilateral restrictive economic measures, the exclusion from the world practice of ideas of national, racial, social superiority, as well as the superiority of certain socio-political systems or models.

We have a common mission: ensuring a smooth transition from a collapsing unipolar world to a sustainable and just multipolar one. Our pursuit also includes integrating technological progress with traditional humanitarianism on the modernization path, safeguarding human dignity and traditional moral values, conserving the diversity of culture and social traditions, and protecting the natural environment.

Dickon Mitchell, Political Leader of National Democratic Congress, Prime Minister of Grenada

Colleagues, in the current global construct, we are at a crossroads. The unprecedented cross border challenges of recent years, such as climate change, and the COVID-19 pandemic, among others, continue to highlight the need for leaders to work together to ensure the wellbeing of all.

Collective decision-making and inclusiveness, therefore, will play a crucial role if we are to maintain the quality of our co-existence on this planet. The path towards modernization must encourage increased people-to-people dialogue, cultural exchanges, and cooperation for the common good. Political parties play a vital role in shaping the direction of a country. Through the promotion of democratic values and principles, and championing respect for the diversity of all civilizations, parties can contribute to the creation of a more inclusive society.

Political parties also have a responsibility to promote social and economic justice, ensuring that all citizens have access to fundamental human rights, such as housing, and healthcare, as well as promoting economic policies that support job creation, sustainable development, and the reduction of economic inequality.

Fellow leaders, our shared path towards modernization will require a transformation in our modus operandi as political parties and as nations, but it will prove essential to our longevity as a civilization. My own party, the National Democratic Congress, came to power on a mandate of transformation. We, too, understood the urgent need to adopt an inclusive and sustainable approach to the development of people and our region.

To this end, I place on record Grenada's support for China's Global Development Initiative, which seeks to steer global development toward a new stage of balanced, coordinated, and inclusive growth in the face of the severe shocks.

Let me also take this opportunity to commend you, President Xi, and the CPC leadership for your continued efforts towards a peaceful coexistence with all states, and to provide opportunities of upliftment and common development for all.

Yawa Djigbodi TSEGAN, Treasurer of the National Office of the Union for the Republic and President of the National Assembly of Togo

The theme of this high-level dialogue between the Communist Party of China (CPC) and the world's political parties is very inspiring. It gives us an opportunity to think deeply and gather wisdom to work together to build a community with a shared future for humanity and a better world.

The world today is once again at a crossroads and undergoing profound structural changes. As never before, countries are eager to seek their own modernization and further development. However, modernization and development need to absorb and draw on the civilizations and values of all countries, as a country's civilization reflects the achievements and values of human social development, including their unique history, morality, culture and science and technology.

Throughout history, many civilizations have emerged one after another, hoping to set an example for the world. Capitalism, which considered it "the only viable socio-economic system", has led to the polarization of the world's rich and poor and to its own collapse. This tells us that true, comprehensive and sustainable development must be in harmony with all civilizations.

The Union for the Republic believes that there is no model of development in the world that is set in stone. It is up to the people, led by their legitimate regimes, to explore the best way to modernize and develop each of them.

In order to promote the wellbeing of its people, the Union for the Republic, under the leadership of President Faure Gnassingbé, has been implementing profound economic reforms since 2012, establishing mechanisms and policies to promote shared prosperity. Togo is a multi-ethnic country. To better implement its development policies, President Faure Gnassingbé has implemented consultative governance to promote social inclusion and harmony. As a peace-loving political party, the Union for the Republic is actively involved in maintaining world peace, stability and security.

Togo has made progress in its modernization process, but, like most African countries, our country continues to work tirelessly to develop national production to develop national production.

To meet the current pressing challenges, we believe that great attention should be paid to the model pioneered by the CPC. In the more than a century since its founding, the CPC has led China to achieve remarkable development achievements.

Therefore, we support the Global Civilizations Initiative to promote dialogue and interaction among civilizations and strengthen cooperation in the fields of education, science, culture, sports, tourism, etc. and other areas of cooperation.

Political parties play a central role in strengthening strategic thinking, formulating, evaluating and adjusting development policies, and responding to the concerns of the people. Therefore, I highly appreciate the convening of this high-level dialogue. The convening of this high-level dialogue provides a platform for strengthening the exchange of experiences among political parties, allowing us to discuss our respective modernization practices and the establishment of governance models that are in line with national conditions.

I believe that high-level and high-quality exchanges among political parties will further deepen our friendship and cooperation and help build a better world.

Yerlan Koshanov, Chairman of the “AMANAT” Party of Kazakhstan

The deep historical ties and good neighborly relations between the people of Kazakhstan and China have laid a good foundation for efficient bilateral and multilateral cooperation between the two countries. Last year, we jointly celebrated the 30th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between Kazakhstan and China, and Xi Jinping, General Secretary of the Communist Party of China (CPC) Central Committee and President of China, paid a state visit to Kazakhstan. This visit once again underlined the permanent comprehensive strategic partnership between Kazakhstan and China and heralded the next “golden decade” of relations between the two countries.

Cooperation between the main political parties of Kazakhstan and China occupies a special place in bilateral relations, and the Communist Party of China is one of the main partners of the “AMANAT” party. The frequent inter-party contacts and visits, exchanges of experience between think tanks and party schools are examples. All this makes the development of inter-party dialogue between the two countries an important part of their relations, which is of special significance in the current complex geopolitical environment.

The crisis of trust among the world’s major powers is intensifying, and the levers of mutual pressure are increasingly being used, such as trade barriers and economic sanctions. In light of this, we welcome the Global Civilizations Initiative, which President Xi Jinping proposed in the statement he just delivered. We believe that this initiative, like the Global Development Initiative and the Global Security Initiative, aims to build a fair and stable world and promote global prosperity and modernization.

In the face of unprecedented, complex international geopolitical conditions, we should strengthen dialogue among political parties and actively collaborate to overcome new challenges. In this context, all political parties have a great responsibility to promote the wellbeing of future generations. I am confident that by working together, we will find constructive solutions to many threats and problems. We are all pursuing the same goal -- building a peaceful future. I therefore call on all political parties to continue to consolidate cooperation among themselves and move forward toward a better future of peace and common prosperity for all of humanity.

Taur Matan Ruak, President of the Popular Liberation Party, Prime Minister of the Democratic Republic of Timor-Leste

The Popular Liberation Party of Timor-Leste believes that when it comes to modernization, China under the leadership of the Communist Party of China (CPC) is a model. China knows how to fully seize the opportunities for modernization and technological development to develop China as a partner with significant influence on a global scale.

Both leaders, institutions at all levels, and citizens are charged with the responsibility of modernization. In the fight against the COVID-19 pandemic, China's response has set an example and become a model for other countries.

The Popular Liberation Party of Timor-Leste pays close attention to the sustained and rapid development of China, which is not only reflected in infrastructure construction, but also in the improvement of people's wellbeing at the economic and social levels. In February 2021, China announced the elimination of absolute poverty nationwide. The CPC's achievements speak for themselves.

The Popular Liberation Party of Timor-Leste believes that the political parties of every country should understand the aspirations of the people and formulate policies to make these aspirations a reality and achieve the unity of social modernization and improvement of the wellbeing of the people.

People are the most important resource in the hands of political parties, so they should put them at the center of their work and do everything they can to provide them with better education, health and social security, and access to housing, electricity, water and health services.

Political parties should fully understand the demands of the people, gain insight into the main challenges and difficulties facing the country, and respond to the urgent demands of the people by promoting short-, medium- and long-term national strategic planning.

Drawing on international models of good practice, the Popular Liberation Party of Timor-Leste not only makes effective use of the limited resources we currently have in the country, but also tries to work together for great social causes by mobilizing resources from all sectors of the country. For example, it is working to address developmental deformities, child malnutrition and poverty, social problems that are affecting more than half of the children and people in our country.

We are committed to advancing science and technology, increasing economic productivity and diversity, and promoting technological sustainability, giving people the opportunity to conduct more new business activities and enabling our businesses to increase profitability and overall competitiveness.

China is a contemporary model to realize the balance of economic and social development, and it is the source of our inspiration and motivation.

Xie Chuntao, Vice President of the Party School of the CPC Central Committee (National Academy of Governance)

The path to modernization varies, and the one that suits works best. However, for a long time in the modern era, modernization has largely been considered as a synonym to Westernization; and to achieve modernization, it seemed necessary to follow the path of Western developed countries. The CPC, which highly values independence, is committed to following its own path. While adhering to its own philosophy, values and basic system, it has drawn on the achievements of other countries and regions, including Western countries. It has led the Chinese people in exploring a Chinese-style modernization path, completing in a few decades the industrialization process that has taken Western countries hundreds of years. It has created a miracle of rapid economic development and long-term social stability. What China has achieved shows Chinese modernization works and is the only viable path for China to build a strong nation and achieve national rejuvenation.

Chinese modernization dispels the myth that modernization is equivalent to Westernization. It sheds light on a new model and a new vision, offers a new option to other developing countries, and provides a Chinese solution for a better social system. In other words, Chinese modernization creates a new model for human advancement. With its distinct worldview, values, as well as views of history, civilizations, democracy and eco-environmental progress, all of which have proven workable, China is breaking new ground in the theory and practice of modernization. Its successes are evidence that diverse civilizations can coexist and the Western model is not the only option. There is neither a fixed model nor a set of universally applicable standards for modernization. Modernization is a right for all and a shared pursuit of nations around the world. The key lies in finding a development path that is in line with a country's specific conditions and the laws governing the development of human society.

Han Wenxiu, Executive Deputy Director of the Office of the Commission for Financial and Economic Affairs under the CPC Central Committee

I would like to share three points on staying committed to peaceful development and promoting global prosperity and security.

First, the three global initiatives proposed by President Xi Jinping represent China's approach to promoting peaceful development, prosperity and security and building a community with a shared future for humanity.

In September 2021, President Xi put forward the Global Development Initiative at the General Debate of the 76th Session of the United Nations General Assembly. In April 2022, he proposed the Global Security Initiative at the Boao Forum for Asia Annual Conference. While addressing the opening of the CPC in Dialogue with World Political Parties High-Level Meeting this year, he proposed the Global Civilizations Initiative.

These initiatives exemplify China's vision of a better world. They speak volumes about the CPC's determination to work for the progress of humanity and the common good of the world. They are a major contribution to promoting world peace and development, as well as global prosperity and security.

Second, peaceful development is the premise for China and other developing countries to achieve modernization. There is a strong consensus among all countries that peace and stability are the most important global public goods, and that development and security are the common aspirations of all peoples. China will work with other countries to safeguard world peace, improve the global governance system, adhere to the right direction of economic globalization, maintain the stability of the global industrial chain and supply chain, develop new drivers of digital, smart and green growth, and promote the modernization of developing countries through peaceful development.

Third, Chinese modernization is conducive to strengthening the anchor for world peace and solidifying the foundation for global prosperity and security. President Xi pointed out that Chinese modernization is socialist modernization pursued under the leadership of the CPC. It contains elements that are common to the modernization processes of all countries, but it is more characterized by features that are unique to the Chinese context. Chinese modernization means greater support for world peace and international justice, and will inject positive energy into world prosperity and security.

Voices From the International Community

Voices from World Political Party Leaders and International Observers

The keynote speech of General Secretary Xi Jinping at the CPC in Dialogue with World Political Parties High-level Meeting conveys the sincere willingness of the Communist Party of China (CPC) to join hands with political parties and organizations of other countries to promote modernization and world prosperity and progress, according to political party figures and international observers worldwide.

Speak Highly of Xi Jinping's Important View about Chinese Modernization

Doğu Perinçek, Chairman of the Patriotic Party of Türkiye

The modernization of the People's Republic of China has followed a path that embraces society as a whole and attaches importance to the spiritual enrichment of humanity. It is admirable to achieve modernization with a population of 1.4 billion people thanks to Chinese socialism.

Iyiola Omisore, National Secretary of the All Progressives Congress (APC) party, the ruling and majority party in Nigeria

In his speech, General Secretary Xi Jinping talked about the need to adhere to the concept of people first, highlighting the people's nature of the direction of modernization, and that the Communist Party of China has always put the people's interests first in promoting modernization. I was also impressed by the fact that the speech mentioned that China will firmly support and help developing countries accelerate their development and achieve industrialization and modernization.

Marco Hincapié, General Secretary of Colombia Humana

General Secretary Xi Jinping proposed to promote the modernization process of human society and respect the diversity of world civilizations. The tolerance and coexistence of different civilizations, exchange and mutual appreciation are an important part of the modernization path of each country. I believe that Xi's speech conveys the will to prosper and progress with all countries in the world, respects the autonomy of each country to explore the path of modernization based on its own national conditions, and provides a Chinese solution for achieving common development.

C. P. Mainali, General Secretary of the Communist Party of Nepal (Marxist-Leninist)

General Secretary Xi Jinping proposed the Global Civilization Initiative, which shares a common purpose with the Belt and Road Initiative, the Global Development Initiative and the Global Security Initiative, that is, to build a community with a shared future for humanity. As Xi said, "one hundred flowers in full blossom bring spring to the garden, and each country should promote its own modernization based on its own characteristics." I express my sincere gratitude to Xi for his insights on the modernization and development of each country.

Asif Luqman Qazi, Director of Foreign Affairs at Jamaat e Islami Pakistan

I am very grateful to the CPC for organizing this high-level dialogue, which provides a platform for political parties of all countries to dialogue and exchange and learn from each other. I very much appreciate President Xi Jinping's Global Civilization Initiative, because the world's civilizations are diverse and should insist on equality, mutual learning and inclusiveness. The theory of civilizational superiority is no longer feasible in today's world, and humanity should promote mutual understanding and common development of civilizations in the process of social modernization.

Zaher Raad, foreign affairs commissioner of Lebanon's Progressive Socialist Party

Xi's speech answered many questions of concern to the participating parties and proposed that political parties should take on the responsibilities of promoting modernization. Ensuring people-centered modernization is the key to advancing the modernization cause.

Andres Alvarez, Secretary of the International Relations Department of the Colombian Communist Party

Xi further expounded his important proposition on modernization and development, which is conducive to reducing the Global North-South Gap and establishing a security and development model featuring fairness, justice, joint contribution and shared benefits. With this model, people worldwide would have more rights to make their own choices.

Response Positively and Support the Xi Jinping-proposed Global Civilization Initiative

Asadollah Badamchian, General Secretary of the Islamic Motalefeh Party of Iran

China committed itself to increase the wellbeing and happiness of its people, which not only benefits its own people, but also the world. General Secretary Xi Jinping has proposed the right approach to global development, the Global Development Initiative, the Global Security Initiative and the Global Civilizations Initiative, which aim to build a happy and peaceful world, and we look forward to the successful implementation of these initiatives.

Vanxay Tavinyan, Deputy Chief of the Propaganda and Training Board of the Lao People's Revolutionary Party Central Committee

Xi's Global Civilizations Initiative respects different civilizations, conforms to the call of the times and helps different civilizations coexist and learn from each other.

Sergey Sanakoev, Deputy Chairman of the Russian-Chinese Friendship Society, member of the Russian International Affairs Council, President of Asia-Pacific Research Center in Moscow

The Global Civilizations Initiative is a natural development of the concept of building a community of shared future for humanity, the Global Development Initiative and the Global Security Initiative, and was warmly endorsed by the participants in the dialogue. This new initiative advocates the inclusive coexistence and equitable development of different civilizations, and will play a positive role in promoting the building of a multipolar world and the common prosperity of the world.

Stephanos Stephanou, Secretary General of Cyprus' Progressive Party of Working People

Countries should develop peacefully and civilizations should respect each other. The Global Civilizations Initiative will help the world work together to meet pressing global challenges, reduce conflict and confrontation, and realize harmonious coexistence

Asadollah Badamchian, General Secretary of the Islamic Motalefeh Party of Iran

Both Iran and China are ancient civilizations with thousands of years of history, and both have contributed to the development of world's civilization. The Global Civilizations Initiative can help people of all countries emerge from the shadows of colonialism, imperialism and hegemony.

Speak Highly of the High-level Meeting and Willing to Strengthen Exchanges and Cooperation with the CPC

Tahir Budaqov, Deputy Chairman of the New Azerbaijan Party of Azerbaijan

The New Azerbaijan Party hopes to strengthen exchanges and cooperation with the CPC and thus further promote the development of relations between the two countries.

Marco Rizzo, Honorary President of Communist Party (Italy)

President Xi's speech was very important in that he emphasized the primacy of the people. The interests of the people are not simply a numerical calculation, but are closely related to happiness and a sense of belonging, as well as to the interaction of peoples. The interests of all peoples can be achieved through different models from their respective national conditions. In recent years, China's leaders have strongly united many countries in the world, which is very important in the promotion of peaceful and inclusive development. I think this is marching on the right path.

Benjamin Anyagre, General Secretary of the Ghana-China Friendship Association

The realization of Chinese modernization is not achieved overnight. It requires strong leadership and precise policy-making by a political party. The CPC, which is leading the Chinese people down the path of modernization, has set an example for African political parties.

Asif Luqman Qazi, Director of Foreign Affairs at Jamaat e Islami Pakistan

As one of the major political parties in Pakistan, the Jamaat-e-Islami Party looks forward to further enhancing cooperation and exchanges with the CPC through think tanks, youth organizations, women's organizations and other channels.

Asadollah Badamchian, General Secretary of the Islamic Motalefeh Party of Iran

The Islamic Motalefeh Party of Iran is ready to deepen cooperation with the CPC in various fields such as humanities, medical care, economy and cultural heritage, and to contribute to the promotion of world prosperity and progress.

Fernando Vanacuni, former Foreign Minister of Bolivia

The CPC is committed to strengthening exchanges and cooperation among political parties and promoting the building of a community of shared future for humanity. Against the backdrop of unprecedented changes, political parties should work together to address challenges in the areas of food, health and security, and promote globalization towards a brighter future with the people as the basis of governance.

Gustavo Pinto, a Brazilian professor

China's role in facilitating the resumption of diplomatic relations between Saudi Arabia and Iran demonstrates its responsibility as a major country. Pinto said Chinese civilization advocates inclusiveness and magnanimity, something other countries should understand further since it will create a better future for the world.

Cavince Adhere, a Kenya-based international relations scholar

The CPC is committed to upholding international fairness and justice, promoting world peace and stability, advocating and practicing genuine multilateralism, and safeguarding the international system with the United Nations as its core. Without peace, no country can develop. The CPC has, in this regard, set a good example for other political parties in other countries

Eleni Karamalengou, Director of the BA in Archaeology, History and Culture of Ancient Greece at the University of Athens

China's efforts to enhance mutual learning among world civilizations are significant. Taking Greece-China cooperation as an example, Karamalengou, who has closely cooperated with Chinese universities in recent years, said deepening cooperation between the two countries in culture and education has helped promote more frequent and fruitful Greece-China collaboration.

КОММУНИСТИЧЕСКАЯ ПАРТИЯ РОССИЙСКОЙ ФЕДЕРАЦИИ

Дмитрий Новиков принял участие в Диалоге КПК и политических партий мира на высшем уровне

15 марта заместитель Председателя ЦК КПРФ, первый заместитель Председателя Комитета Государственной Думы по международным делам Дмитрий Новиков принял участие в работе Диалога КПК и политических партий мира на высшем уровне.

Форум был организован Центральным Комитетом Компартии Китая. Он стал продолжением встреч мирового уровня по актуальным вопросам глобальной повестки. Главная тема Диалога получила название «Путь к модернизации: ответственность политических партий».

В партийном обмене на высшем уровне приняли участие руководители политических партий десятков стран мира, президенты, главы правительств и парламентов, выступившие с обстоятельными докладами. В их числе – Сипил Рамафоса (ЮАР), Николас Мадуро (Венесуэла), Александар Вучич (Сербия), Пулсанамрайн Оун-Судан (Монголия), Днейки Марате (Папуа-Новая Гвинея), Салава Кири (Южный Судан), Даниэль Ортега (Никарагуа), Кит Мичелл (Гренада), Таур Матан Руанг (Восточный Тимор), Ерлан Кошанов (Казахстан) и представители партий из других стран.

С основными фундаментальными по своему значению докладами выступили Генеральный секретарь ЦК КПК Председатель КНР и глава её Центрального военного Совета товарищ Си Цзиньпин. Важнейшей темой речи стала модернизация китайского стиля. Было подчеркнуто, что Компартия Китая выступила в новый поход с целью строительства социализма китайской спецификой. В этом походе народ Китая поставлен в центр всего.

Одной из главных темов выступления КПК в этот раз является «Благополучие нации, покойный и их потомков». Решить задачу можно в процессе модернизации, которую осуществляет Китай, обладает национальной спецификой. Китайская модернизация стимулирует и ускоряет «великое дело модернизации всего человечества».

В ходе своего выступления Генеральный секретарь ЦК КПК выдвинул инициативу о глобальной цивилизации. В раз данной инициативы китайский лидер призвал уважать многообразие цивилизаций, отдавать общечеловеческое ценно высоко ценить преисправность и инновационность цивилизаций, а также совместными усилиями стимулировать устойчивые международные обмены и сотрудничество.
